

(ay-DEEM) — Hebrew for "witnesses"

Where learners become witnesses

Edim transforms Holocaust education from passive reading into an active journey of discovery and reflection — guided, personal, and emotionally aware.

THE PROBLEM WITH TRADITIONAL APPROACHES

Students read, watch, move on. No way to capture what resonates. One-size-fits-all pacing. Difficult material with no guided support for processing emotions. Teachers can't facilitate every student's questions.

WHAT EDIM DOES DIFFERENTLY

Guided Journey, Personal Pace

A companion guide walks students through the material — whether exploring broad themes, specific events, or the lives of individuals. Students who want to go deeper can; those who need more time get it.

Built-In Assessments

In-app quizzes and critical thinking exercises let students and teachers gauge understanding as learning happens.

Teacher Customization

Educators can customize lessons to fit their curriculum, timeframe, and student needs.

Active Meaning-Making

Students don't just consume — they construct understanding through collection, reflection, and articulation.

Emotionally Aware

Built-in check-ins acknowledge the difficulty of the material. No cheerful responses to reflections on atrocities.

LMS Integration

Connects with Canvas and Google Classroom for seamless assignment and grade management.

STUDENT TOOLS FOR ACTIVE LEARNING

Evidence Archive

Collect artifacts, quotes, and observations that resonate

Reflection Prompts

Write what stays with you; receive connections to broader themes

Definition Building

Articulate concepts in your own words with feedback

Why Edim?

The chain of testimony must continue

"Whoever listens to a witness, becomes a witness."

— Elie Wiesel

The last generation of Holocaust survivors is passing. Edim helps students become witnesses to history — not passive observers, but active participants in understanding and remembering. The platform frees educators to focus on discussion and deeper engagement rather than content delivery.
